Kings Wood Art to Partner with Gilt Groupe, Inc.
Two Special Events Provide Art Lovers and Collectors Exclusive
Opportunity to Purchase Fine Art at Enormous Savings

New York, NY (August 3, 2011) -- Kings Wood Art, a fine art gallery website, announced today that it has partnered with the Gilt Groupe, Inc., to launch two special events - "Hanging Art Salon Style," on August 3 and the "Color Event" on August 10.

Kings Wood Art, a trusted resource for consumers of fine art since 2007, exclusively represents many of the world's best contemporary artists. The gallery provides advice about incorporating art into daily life with confidence and style, and in the tri-state area, offers complimentary private viewings and installations.

Kings Wood Art is the brainchild of Monique Squeo-Bolsius, gallery owner and former teacher. Squeo-Bolsius is excited about the partnership with Gilt Groupe because it allows Kings Wood Art (KWA) to provide new opportunities to Gilt's clientele.

By showcasing more artists on the Gilt Groupe site, its members can experience first-hand the many ways art can complement and inspire fashionable lifestyles. Because of its unique online offerings, KWA can now provide its clients with more opportunities to make investments that actually grow in value over time.

KWA offers an expansive collection of art in a wide range of styles and media. The collection is attractive to a diverse array of buyers from the art aficionado seeking a signature piece to high-impact designers questing for the latest in upscale interior design. “We appreciate that every person can enjoy art, and our personal service and competitive prices are designed to make our art accessible to all,” said Squeo-Bolsius.

By leveraging the exclusive relationship KWA has with its artists, and Gilt Groupe’s large online member base, Gilt can now showcase both the newest masterpieces in the art world and the most dynamic new talents propelling today’s art culture.

Two special online events, on August 3 and 10, will feature the works of Tadeo and Victor Angelo for these limited engagements, at almost 60-70% off current gallery retail prices. Each sale will begin online at Noon (EDT). The call-to-action is clear. Only a limited number of pieces will be available during each event. For more information, art lovers are encouraged to visit the KWA or Gilt Groupe websites (www.kingswoodart.com – www.giltgroupe.com).

Like the Gilt Groupe, KWA has earned a reputation for providing authentic, high-end merchandise at highly competitive prices. Together, these two unique companies enjoy a natural synergy that art lovers and consumers should find irresistible.

Chicago, Museum of Contemporary Art in Colorado, Sharjah Art Museum in the United Arab Emirates, University Art Museum in Texas, Watts Towers Art Center and Museum of Art in downtown Los Angeles. He had held benefit shows at the posh New York galleries of John McEnroe, Robert Miller and Sperone Westwater.

Angelo's commissions include large-scale works for which he has donated proceeds to charity for the cities of New York and Los Angeles. His international appearances span the globe from Portugal to the Netherlands and Russia, in addition to his countless acquisitions from admiring collectors around the globe. Angelo consumes large canvasses with an enduring passion.

TADEO

"Understanding the ambiguities of the human nature" captivated Tadeo when he entered the art arena. As the son of one of Peru's best-loved master artists, he was destined to follow his path. Early on, Tadeo learned from his father that the human body presented both the greatest difficulty and the greatest achievements in fine art. He began his earnest pursuit to master figurative art drawing and painting at the age of seven.

Tadeo was born in Lima, Peru on August 30, 1977. In his continuous search for artistic development, Tadeo enrolled in the prestigious School of Fine Arts at 18. As the top student in his class, he was later invited to participate in the Quimera '99 Art Exhibit in Mexico, where his artwork was highly regarded as some of the best in South America.

His paintings offer a window into an intelligent, creative mind; his strokes represent the voice of the true artist, according to his admirers. Tadeo's art transcends hyperrealism, exposing observer to surreal and delightful experiences. Brilliant, gifted and spontaneous, Tadeo's artistic achievements elate the senses and portray perfectly the exuberant, yet humble mastermind behind the canvas.

About KINGS WOOD ART:

Kings Wood Art specializes in representing the finest in Contemporary Realism, Impressionism and Abstract Art in all mediums. From one-of-a-kind paintings to affordable limited edition prints, sculpture to photography, we offer the largest collection of fine art available anywhere in the world. Our variety of styles offers collectors an expanded selection of art in a variety of styles, by those artists with the highest level of quality, integrity and taste within their chosen field of painting or sculpture.

Kings Wood Art's gallery has an unsurpassed collection of contemporary art. The majority of our pieces come professionally framed, and with more than 30 artists represented, our treasures offer a feast for the eyes and the mind. Among the renown artists we exhibit, we are honored to represent Aldo Luongo, Tomasz Rut, Hessam Abrishami, Erica Hopper, Anne Packard, Pino, Monica Meunier, Orlando Agudelo Botero, Alexandru Nechita, Tadeo, Tarkay, Pietro Piccoli, Michael and Inessa Garmash, Alexandru Darida, Peter Max, Sabzi, Romero Britto, David Schluss, Calman Shemi and master sculptor, Bill Mack.

The company name represents the owner's (Monique Squeo-Bolsius) love note to her late parents, Lillian and Philip Squeo of Alpine, New Jersey. The name represents the street she grew up on where the dream of representing gifted artists was born. "My career in art was made possible by my parents' love, support and encouragement. Without them, I could never have turned my lifetime dream into a reality," said Squeo-Bolsius.
